How Interagency Campaigns Can Counter Chinese Gray Zone Incursions in the Pacific

The Pacific is where China is testing the edges of U.S. resistance by refining its ability to exploit gaps in governance, security, and perception management. Democratic peace theory holds that democracies do not go to war with each other. The New Economic Nationalism

Empires, city states, and nations have long pursued aggressive trade, tax, and investment policies to amass wealth. A new consensus emerged after the Great Depression and World War II supporting liberalized international trade, economic cooperation, and free markets. Today that consensus has shattered, replaced by a “new economic nationalism” of industrial policy, tariffs, and various methods of state support for the economy. Can this new approach deliver stability, national security, and prosperity? This book examines case studies revealing a decidedly mixed record. In some instances, economic nationalist policies have fostered growth and declining unemployment, though accompanied by fiscal costs and inefficiency. In much of the developing world, however, economic nationalist policies have produced corruption, debt burdens, inflation, and ultimately stagnation. By examining the past, The New Economic Nationalism provides a roadmap to an uncertain future.

Trumps „America First“-Politik bedroht den Welthandel

Die EU sollte sich auf ihre Stärken besinnen – und neue Partner suchen

Die Handelspolitik von Donald Trump folgt seinem „America First“-Prinzip und will durch Zölle wirtschaftliche und politische Zugeständnisse von Handelspartnern erzwingen. Dabei unterscheidet der US-Präsident nicht zwischen verbündeten und autokratischen Staaten. Auf diese Weise unterlaufen die USA das regelbasierte Handelssystem, von dem die EU und Deutschland seit Jahrzehnten profitiert haben. Auch wenn die transatlantischen Beziehungen wichtig bleiben, sollte die EU jetzt zügig die Partnerschaften mit demokratischen Mittelmächten weiter ausbauen.

How DOGE Can Retake the Commanding Heights: Overhauling How America Equips Its Warfighter

Four forces acting on the Pentagon this year could fundamentally improve its organization, weapons procurement, operational support, and personnel management. Specific recommendations for the first of these forces, the work of the Department of Government Efficiency (DOGE), started with a February 2025 working paper. The second and third forces, budget reconciliation that will set defense spending levels and the nature of America's strategic leadership in the world, will be covered in future papers. This paper will continue specific recommendations for DOGE as it explores the fourth dynamic, opportunities to overhaul the defense industrial base, supply chain and military technology advancements, that could, and should, change how America equips its warfighters. Primer: U.S. Deportations—Executive Power

The executive branch has been given broad authority to enforce immigration law and conduct mass deportations.
